If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will usually be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA"). However, this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notifed the International Bureau under Rule 66.1 bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.
If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of three months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

_	Box No	. 11	Priority
1.	. The following document has not been furnished:
	□ copy of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed (Rule 43bis.1 and 66.7(a)).
	translation of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed (Rule 43bis.1 and 66.7(b)).
	Consequently it has not been possible to consider the validity of the priority claim. This opinion has nevertheless been established on the assumption that the relevant date is the claimed priority date.
2.	This opinion has been established as if no priority had been claimed due to the fact that the priority claim has been found invalid (Rules 43 bis .1 and 64.1). Thus for the purposes of this opinion, the international filing date indicated above is considered to be the relevant date.

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY (SEPARATE SHEET)

Re Item V.

The following document is referred to in this communication:

D1: US 5 937 443 (KAGEYAMA TSUYOSHI) 17 AUGUST 1999 (1999-08-17)

Closest prior art

D1 discloses

a pneumatic device for personal protection, of the kin having at least one sac-like gas-tight element connectable through an inlet box to automatically releasing inflating means and attaching means co-operating, in working position, with the body of the user so that the sac-like element is kept in a position which corresponds to the portion of the body to be protected, wherein said sac-like element encloses a variable volume chamber which is intended to be filled with a gas introduced therein via said inlet box.

Problem

The gas-tight chamber, when inflated, is subjected to a change in its geometric shape. As a result of the inflation of e.g. a tubular element, it follows that there is a diminishing of the region of the body which is protected and therefore, a general decreasing in the effectiveness of the protecting device.

Solution

The gas-tight air chamber comprises inside flexible partition members extending lengthwise a greater side of the chamber and connected along their edges extending lengthwise to two opposite walls of the chamber, whereby said flexible partition members divide the chamber into a plurality of compartments arranged one next to another and in fluid communication with each other.
